Chapter 1 â€“ In the Beginning

Bella was at school and hanging out with her friends in the canteen "So Bella, do you want to hang out later?" Angela asked Bella. "I wish I could but I have already made plans." Bella told them with a smile "Bella... it's a last year before we graduation and go off to college" Jessica told her. "Yeah I know... how about tomorrow night?" Bella asked them, "sure" both of the girls said at the same time.

The bell rang for the start of lesson.

Angela and Bella went on their way to class. They sat down together as the teacher walked in and started the lesson. "So let me guess who your hanging out with the La Push gang" Angele asked her friend. "Yes I am and they not the La Push gang they are more like brothers." Bella told her trying to stick up for the pack/friends. "Would you girls like to share the conversation to the class?" the teacher asked. To which the girls replied "no miss" at the same time. "Then be quiet!" the teacher ordered to them so they did and took notes from the class.

Bella walked out of school because it was home time, she went to her car and got in then drove out of school and to La Push. When she arrived to the La push she didn't go to Jake's house but to Sam's house instead.

She arrived there and got out of her car but the pack came running out to greet and hugged her. Emily walked out "Bella, hi". Bella heard a female say so she turned around to see Emily walking down the steps with Sam following her. "Hey" Bella said to Emily and they hugged each other. "I was wondering when we'd see your face around here again" Emily joked with her. "I know it's just with doing my exams and my graduation coming, also applying for college course" Bella told her. "What college did you apply for?" Sam asked her "I applied for a few colleges but I really want to go to Stanford university" Bella told them with a smile. "So you will be leaving us?" the pack asked her because to them she was a park of the pack. "No I'm not... but if I do, I will be back to you guys" Bella told them. "How about we go to the beach?" Sam suggest to them. "Sure" the pack said at the same time. "Bella you can use one of my swim suits" Emily said to her as she grabbed her hand and pulled her into her room.

The girls changed into swims suits. Emily and Bella walked out of the house to see Sam and Jacob waiting for them so they walked together.

They arrived at the beach to see the pack playing football so Sam and Jacob left the girls and went to play with them. Bella and Emily went into the water then went to sunbathe.

It got dark really quick, "I going to head home see you soon." Bella informed the pack, so Jacob went to get up but Bella stopped him "no Jake you stay and enjoy yourself." Bella ordered him so Jake obeyed her and sat back down. Bella got back to Sam's house and got in her car and drive out of La Push to Forks.

She arrived home and went inside to see her dad sitting on the sofa. "Hey dad" she said to her dad as she sat down on the sofa as well. "Hey Bells this came for you" Charlie told his daughter as he handed a letter to her. She opened the letter and saw that the letter had the Stanford University logo on the top and the letter read.

Dear Miss I M Swan

I am writing this letter to know that we have accepted you to Stanford University to study the Law to do with Native America. We are looking forward for you to study with this.

Please find included everything you will need to make sure your start with us is as stress free as possible.
>Can't wait to see you.

Yours Sincerely

Claire Blarke

Bella screamed from excitement causing Charlie to jump up and look at her "What Bells?" Charlie asked his daughter. "Oh my god, I have just got accepted into Stanford university!" Bella said in an excited voice. "That's great Bells" Charlie told his daughter. "Yah it is, but the guys won't be happy" Bella told her father in a sad voice. "Bells they will understand" he told her. "Well I going to bed night dad" she said to him. "Night Bells" Charlie said to her as he watched her leave the room.

Bella didn't fall asleep straight away as she had so much going on in her hear. She was excited to be going to Stanford but then she was also trying to figure out how to tell the guys but she knew that they would be happy for her as they would have the summer to spend with her before she went away and she meant what she said about coming back for them.

Authors Note: Thankyou everyone for the reviews from the last chapter. May change a few things in this chapter as I want Bella to spend some time with the pack.

Chapter 2 â€“ Summer Bliss

Bella woke up the next morning bright an early before her alarm went off, so she just laid in bed and thinking about how she would spend her summer with the pack and make the most of it before she went off to university. Her alarm then went off, so she decided to get up and get dressed ready for a day at the beach. She then went downstairs to get some breakfast to find a note from her dad.

Bella

Gone to work then I going fishing with Billy. Have fun today.

Love Dad

But before she could go to the beach and have fun with the pack, she had one more exam to take care of which was science and she knew she need to get a good grade in this exam to do what she wanted at university so with that in mind she decided to head to do some last minute revision before the exam.

When she got to the school she parked her car and went straight to the library. By the time she had finished her revision she noticed the time was 9.30 and the exam started at 10.00 so she knew she had time to go and find Jessica and Angela and tell them her good news. She found them in the canteen sitting where they normally sit. So she walked up to them and sat down next to Angela'

"Hey Bella" Jessica and Angela said to her.

"Hey Angela, Hey Jessica. I have some really exciting news to tell you both." Bella said to them as she got her letter out to show them.

"Oh my god!" Jessica said in a happy voice.

"You got accepted into Stanford university." Angela finished as the guys walked to the table and sat down.

"Who got in and where?" Mike asked them.

"Nothing for you to worry about." Bella said in a hurry.

"Bella got accepted into Stanford University" Jessica informed her boyfriend.

"What? Bella you got in to what you wanted." Eric said to her, as he put his arms around Angela waist.

"Yeah I know, it's just I'm not looking forward to going" Bella whispered to them.

"Bella, this is your future we are talking about!" Jessica told her.

"Don't you think I know that!" Bella said to them in an angry voice as she stormed off. It was as if Jessica just didn't understand how much she would miss the pack.

Bella walked outside and sat down on the bench soon she felt someone sit next to her so she looked up to see Angela.

"Bella, I think I know why you are worry about going and its cause of the guys down at La Push" Angela informed her.

"What ? no it has nothing to do with them" Bella said in a hurry.

"Yes it is, because you know that if you go you will be hurting them" she informed her.

"Yah your right, they are like brothers to me. I don't want them to feel like I letting them down" Bella informed her best friend.

"If they feel the same way you do then they would want you to go" Angela told her.

"I know they feel the same way, it's just hard to make them see that this is a good thing." Bella told her as tears were welling up in her eyes and she wiped them away.

The bell went then, Bella and Angela walked into science exam. The teacher told them what will happen and what time the exams finishes and that they could start. Half an hour later the exams had all finished.

Bella walked out of the exam room and put her phone back on. To see she had a group text from the guys wishing her good luck. So then she decided to drive home and maybe do some baking for the guys. By the time she had finished baking a batch of brownies she left them to cool and went and got changed. She then sent a text to Jake.

I'm heading done can you make sure everyone is at the first beach.

As she was heading back done to collect the brownies she heard her phone go off, it was a message from Jake.

_Everyone is here and waiting I'm hoping you have something to eat to say thank you for my services. _

With the brownies all cooled and in a container she got into her car and drove down to the first beach to where all the guys were waiting for her. As she got out the car she was pulled into a huge warm hug, she looked up to expect it to be Jake but she was surprised to find out that it was Paul.

"Hey Bella"

"Hey Paul"

He took the container from her and walked her down the beach to where the rest of the pack were. They were all enjoying the sunshine which was rare in La Push as well as in Forks. As she walked down she could see everyone. Sam was with Emily and they both just smiled at her, the same was said for Jared and Kim. Jacob, Quil, Collin and Brady were all wresting each other which was fun to see. The next thing she saw was a bit of shock to her but she saw Embry and Leah quite close together, she looked up at Paul and he just shrugged his shoulders.

"Bella cooked brownies for everyone" Paul shouted to get everyone's attention.

"Sweet food" Said Jake, Quil, Collin and Brady at the same time.

Everyone eat the brownies that had been made and then went back to do what they were doing, Bella went to talk to Sam and Emily as Paul went to play with the rest of them. Bella kept on staring glances over towards Leah and Embry.

"They haven't imprinted on each other" Sam said when she turned her attention back towards him.

"Then why are they that close?" Bella asked, seen as she knew about imprinting.

"I'm not sure she just finds it easier to talk to Embry about things that are going on in her life and she can trust him to keep it to himself." Said Sam.

She was about to ask more questions when Seth came down and gave her a massive hug.

"Hey Seth"

"Hey Bella, looks like I missed out on all of your wonderful cooking".

"I think if you look in my bag, then there maybe something to eat." Bella said giving him a wink.

Seth then went up to her bag to have a look for some food, not only did he find food, he also found her acceptance letter from Stanford. Seth ran straight back down to her and gave her a massive bear hug.

"Congratulations Bella" Seth shouted and sounded so happy, that the rest of the pack came over to see what was going on.

"Seth, what are you on about?" Asked Leah.

Bella looked like she wanted to run and hid but she knew that she had to do this and tell them all about what was going to happen at the end of the summer.

"Bella got accepted into Stanford University" He said happily. Jake just looked at her before talking.

"Is this the news you wanted to tell us all, that you are leaving" he said with anger in his voice towards the end.

Bella looked at him and everyone else, she stayed staring at Paul for some reason he looked more upset than anyone else.

"Yes, I got accepted into Stanford and I will be going at the end of the summer. I wanted to tell you before you heard it from anyone else. I also wanted to tell you that I am going to be spending my summer with you guys so there is no getting rid of me that easily."

"Bella, this is wonderful news to hear and we are all very happy for you" Sam said with a smile.

"Thank you"

"Well I vote we have a bonfire to celebrate this wonderful news" Suggested Seth.

"Yah, how about tomorrow night?" asked Jake as he came over to give Bella a hug.

"Yah that sounds great, celebrating with my pack like I should be doing." Said Bella.

Bella suddenly looked about her pack as she calls them to notice that Paul was missing, but she couldn't understand why he was so upset with her news, she would be spending them summer with them all and that included him.

Find out what is up with Paul on the next chapter!

Chapter 3 â€“ Life is fun as a wolf

Pauls POV:

My life is great, I have my brothers and sister in the pack which made me happy as I felt like a part of a family which is great cause I don't have any family. But today wasn't a very happy day for me. We had all just found out that Bella was going to Stanford University, now don't get me wrong I want her to go and have a life, but I also didn't want her to go. No I use to hate her because she dated that leech for a bit but she quickly got over it and then started hang around with us and became a part of our pack.

Now I know she said she was going to spend the summer with us, but I just wanted her to spend time with just me and no one else but then everyone would figure out that I like Bella a lot and want her to see me as a boyfriend and not a brother like she sees the rest of the pack.

"Paul!" I could hear Bella calling my name but I wasn't in the mood to hear what she had to say so I phased into my wolf and ran further into the forest. I stood once I was near the river I just needed to clear my head before I spoke to her or I would be spilling my secret and that can't happen as she needs to go to university without me holding her back.

That's when I noticed that Sam had come to join me, up here. I knew he wanted to talk but what about I had no idea, so I just waited for him to start talking.

"What's with you Paul?" Sam asked me.

"Nothing, just needed some fresh air and to clear my head."

"Paul you ran when she needed you"

"Who needed me? If you are talking about Bella, then she doesn't need me she has everyone else."

"She was trying to tell us that she is planning on spending the whole summer with us and no one else."

"Look Sam can't you just leave it, I know what she said and I am happy that she gets to do something she wants to do."

"Ok then, I will speak to you later."

I don't look to see if he has gone or not but he would have because he would start to feel the pull towards Emily because he had been away from her. I know what I needed to do but I didn't want to do it just yet so I thought of something else instead, I will text her.

I am sorry that I ran earlier, I just needed some fresh air and to clean my head out. I know you are at home but would it be alright if I came over so we could talk for a bit.

I sent the text message and start to walk towards home, as I got to the front door my phone went off to say that I had a reply from Bella, which put a smile on my face. The text message read;

_That's fine, I know why you are upset. I'm in the middle of cooking so yah it's fine for you to come over Charlie has gone fishing with Billy and before you even ask yes I will save you some food. _

The smile on my face just got even bigger as she was offering food which I knew she did for everyone in the pack but it was the first time she had offered it to me. I went into my house, grabbed a shower, and got dressed properly seen as I was heading to forks. Once I had got dressed, I went out to my car to drive to forks but before heading off I texted Bella.

_Just leaving now and will be with you soon, you best have cooked something good _

As I put the keys in the ignition, my phone went off and was a reply from Bella which said;

Yah of course it's something, and see you soon x

I reread the message as she had put a kiss at the end. Had she meant to put that or not. Well there was no point in wandering about it know all I had to do was focus on driving to Forks and my talk with Bella. I would tell her that I am happy for her to be going to Stanford without reviling how much it is also going to hurt me when she goes go. I would also spend as much time with her as I could over the summer, hopefully with the vampires all gone Sam would let up on patrols and let us spend some time with her. So here I am about to knock on her door, please let this be the right thing to do.

So there you go. Find out how there talk goes next chapter. Please review.

4. Big Talk

Authors Note: Thankyou everyone for the reviews from the last chapter. Let's see how the talk goes

Chapter 4 â€“ Big Talk

Bella's POV:

I had just finished cooking and was plating up when I heard the doorbell go and I knew who it was. "Doors open" I shouted to let Paul know he could come straight on in. I just finished plating up when he had arrived into the kitchen.

"It smells great in here Bells"

"Why, thank you Paul. Do you want to eat first and then talk?" I asked knowing that he would be hungry, the wolves always were not matter if they had just eaten or not.

"Yah that sounds great as I'm starving, I haven't eaten since this morning."

So we sat in silence and eat my delicious spaghetti bolognaise even if I do so myself, Paul went for a second helping which I didn't mind there was enough and would still be some left over for Charlie when he got home from fishing with Billy. I had already guessed what Paul had wanted to come over and talk about I was just waiting for him to start talking.

"Bella, first of all I want to apologise for running off the other day when everyone was congratulating you about getting into university." Well that wasn't the first thing that I was expecting for him to say, I was expecting him to say something like the fact he didn't want me to go or try and persuade me that it was too dangerous for me to be away from the pack.

"Paul, I get my you ran off. You just don't want me to go because it would be like you are losing a part of your family" I looked at Paul, to see that I was right about the family part. Paul thought of everyone in the pack as family because he had none of his own, even though I was not an imprint Paul still saw me as part of the pack and that to him meant I was family.

"Look Bella, I want you to go to university and get away from here and do something with your life. I know we are all stuck here because of us being shifters and having imprints but that doesn't mean that you can't go and make something of yourself" I looked at him in awe.

"Paul you know was well as anyone that I am here for the summer and I am going to be spending all of my time with you and the pack as much as possible cause you are family to me as well."

"Yah about that I was hoping that you might let me talk you out on a date maybe next Friday, just for like a meal or something?" Paul had just asked me and I felt gob smacked, I knew he was good looking and was a bit shocked that he would be asking someone as plain as me but hey there as worse people I suppose that could ask me out on a date and I got to spend the rest of the week with different members of the pack.

"Yah that sounds like an awesome plan Paul" I said with a massive smile on my face, which just put a smile on Paul's face as well.

Paul's POV:

I can't believe I have just asked Bella out on a date and that she had said yes to me. The smile she had on her face was probably reflecting the smile that was on my face as well. The wolf inside me was going around in circles that his mate had said yes to going to a date even though she would never find out how we felt because that would stop her from going to university and I was not about to let that happen, she had worked too hard.

"Hello... earth to Paul" I heard Bella call to me.

"Yes, sorry Bella I spaced out for a while there."

"That's fine, but it's getting late and Charlie will be home soon and he will be a bit shocked to see you here." She said to me, even though the look on her face looked like she didn't want me to go anywhere and trust me I felt the same way but Charlie is not my favourite fan even though I have been staying out of trouble since shifting into my wolf.

"Bella would be alright if I texted you whilst I am at work and during the week with more information about Friday?"

"Yes, that's fine with me" she said with a smile that was huge.

So I got up to leave and Bella walked me to the door, but before I would leave Bella handed me some food to take home. In return I give her a massive hug to say thank you. I got into my car and headed home, with thoughts for next Friday and my date with Bella. I got home and put the food in the fridge and just as I'm about to turn in, my phone went off.

Good night Paul, thanks for the chat, can't wait until Friday xx

Again she had put kisses at the _end_ of text message, inside my wolf was doing jumping jacks but it wasn't enough for him. He knew she wasn't our imprint but we don't need an imprint like the other wolves in the pack we just need a mate who is strong and that person was Bella. I sent here a reply back.

Good night Bella, thank you for the food and I also can't wait until Friday xx

After I sent that message I lied on my bed and my mind was just on overload from being with Bella and talking to her. I was just to excited about Friday night to go to sleep just yet, so I got up and searched from my stash of weed to help me relax and get some sleep before having to be up for work in the morning.

5. Date Night -Part 1

Bella Meets a Wolfblood

Summary: Bella has come to forks to live with her dad, she makes friends with Jake and the pack and starts to fall for Paul but then she gets a letter for university and moves and meets new friends and a new supernatural creature but what happens when an old flames comes to see her a university read and find out.

Pairings: Bella/Paul, Bella Rhydian

Disclaimer: I don't own any of the characters; they belong to Stephanie Myer and the CBBC but the plot is all mine.

Authors Note: Thankyou everyone for the reviews from the last chapter. Let's see how the date goes and other people's reactions to it.

Chapter 4 â€“ Date Night â€“ Part 1

Bella's POV:

Right first off let me say my week has been hell. Not only did I get into trouble from Charlie about going out on a night out with Paul but Jake pretty much bit my head off when I told him what was going on. That was not a fun day, I though Jake was going to be happy for me like everyone else in the pack was but he wasn't I just didn't get what was wrong with him, but if he was just going to sulk like a child then fine let him be like that. Charlie was in a bad mood because he knew Paul use to cause a lot of problems, but he wanted me to move on and enjoy my summer so he just set some ground rules for the night and they included that Paul had to come in and meet Charlie properly and I had to be home by 10.

I was in the middle of cooking myself some lunch seen as I was home by myself as dad was at work and wouldn't be home until 5 tonight which gave me plenty of time to make his favourite which was beef stroganoff. So I was just plating up my lunch when my phone went off upstairs, but the time I had gone upstairs to get it, it had gone off again which was wired. I looked at my phone to see that I had to messages one from Paul and another from Jake. Jakes message read;

_I am really sorry for having a go at you the other day. I get the fact that Paul wants to spend time with you before going to university, but as long as you promise to spend time with me that I will be fine with it. _ I smiled at this and knew Jake was back to his good old self. I sent a message back saying;_ That if he promised to be my best friend like he had always been then I would have no problem hanging out with him and asked what he was doing at the weekend? _

I then bring up Paul's text to see what he has said; _Hey Bella, just to let you know that will need to be ready by 8pm and you will need to dress pretty but then you always do xx. _I always smiled when I get a text from Paul. The thing is that this is the only information Paul has given about our night. I am still really nervous about where is going to take me and how the night is going to pan out. So I text Paul back; _I will be ready and waiting at 8pm but remember that I have to be back by 10 xx._

I have finished cooking so I take a shower and start to get ready for the night ahead, I just hope this isn't going to be a complete waste of time.

Paul's Pov of the same night:

So I have just got in from patrol and Sam has given me the night off so I can take Bella out for the night. She has had a really bad week seen as Charlie had an argument with her for doing on a date with me but then I could understand where he is coming from. The other person that had given her shit about going on a date with me was Jake and that really shocked me cause he kind of knew how she felt about him and I could see where he was coming from because he knew how I had been before I had phased.

I head to have a shower but before getting in it I send Bella a text message saying; _That she had to be ready by 8pm and that she had to dress pretty but she looked pretty in anything she wore xx. _Shit! I just read what I had put and was wandering what she was thinking. She had been bugging me all week for more information for where I was taking her but I wasn't giving up any information to her apart from what I had text her.

I laid out my clothes and then headed into the bathroom to have a shower and began thinking about tonight and how I so hoped that she would let me kiss her at the end of the night. The only thing I have to worry about is that my wolf doesn't over take and do something to her. We had been texting each other all week and had gotten to know each other well but we hadn't seen each other since I asked her to go on the date with me, so my wolf is on edge at the moment.

As I get out the shower I see that my phone is flashing mean that I have a text message and hopefully it was from Bella and no one else. When I saw it was from Bella a huge smile came on my face and her text said that:_ she would be ready by 8pm but reminded me that she had to be back at 10pm. _My smile then turned into a frownthat only gave me about an 1hour and 30mins with her but hopefully that was going to be enough for now until we made other plans.

I get dressed, gather everything that I need to the night, I was going to be gentleman and pay for tonight. I get in my truck and drive towards Forks to pick up Bella and hopefully this night is going to be a good night for the both of us.
